These days they are more known as budget brand and in 2008 they were bought by Home Retail Group, the owners of Argos. Bush Dab Radio Although Argos now sell a LOT of Bush products, they are still available elsewhere. I have a retro remake of a classic Bush radio as well as a more modern DAB radio. Bush Dab Radio Tr 2003 Manual Pdf I've read the manual and it makes no mention of why this might happen. Although the radio is a good few years old and well out of warranty I'm loath to get rid of what is otherwise a perfectly good radio and was quite expensive when I bought it. Maybe it's a simple button press that will restore the screen. Unfortunately, probably because of the buyout by Home Retail Group none of Bush's contact details including website work. So, I contacted Home Retail Group. They gave me the number of their customer services, but they told me I needed to speak to Argos customer services. Speaking to them, I came across the following problems. Unless it's an Argos product this may be, may not be they're not interested.<http://fibreglassspecialists.co.nz/upload/editor/dell-d620-service-manual-pdf.xml>

Radio Bush DAB1507 Instruction Manual. They don't support radios, even if it was bought from them. They don't appear to realise that Bush is their own exclusive brand. As a result I got nowhere. Now, bearing in mind that Bush still sell radios, this begs the question as to where you get technical support. I certainly don't know. I contacted Home Retail Group about this last week but have yet to receive a reply. I recently placed an order with Argos for two BUSH products. An under counter Freezer and a 5.1 DVD Home Theatre kit. On delivery I found the door of the Freezer badly damaged, so I phoned Argos who put me through to a woman from BUSH called Sarah. I explained I worked nights and live alone, so would it be possible to arrange the engineer visit of an afternoon. She quite rudely stated that "You cannot tell me when you're going to have a visit. It's 710 days period" I then phoned Argos and complained about her and her attitude. I then arranged for a replacement to be sent 2 days after. The Home Theatre kit came later than the Freezer by a few hours, and after just 10 days. The DVD player packed up and stopped working. I then phoned Argos to complain and arrange a replacement. Stating the problems I had with the Freezer and the attitude of BUSH. A replacement was sent and upon opening the new kit, I found the SubWoofers were broken. Again I phoned Argos and complained and stated I was intending to get my money back for the Home Theatre kit. I then asked the young lady at Argos, if these BUSH products are faulty and do they get many complaints or returns of the broken items. No answer was given, but she said to take up a complaint with BUSH direct, after half an hour on hold trying to reach BUSH I gave up. Mark, Could I ask what particular product this was.

I have tried two 3D players from Argos, a Hitachi and a Bush, both would not play 3D on my Bush television. I have watched 3D on the television via BT Vision without any problems. As the menus on the 2 players are identical, I suspect these products have the same chassis and are just rebadged as to manufacturer. I found Argos Technical support useless, just send back one or other of the products until it works. If there are software issues, it appears that this will not resolve them. Both were sold at reasonable prices, yet both the TV and DVD are now not available, so I'll end up paying much more than I want to. From your comments I get the impression they are unloading these products knowing there are issues with them. Would you like to try it too Please try again later. answers willy40 4 years ago The only reference to a manual I have seen is the printed manual enclosed. To my knowledge there is no facility to download the manual. Like Report Julian 4 years ago Thanks Willy. I purchased it from KMart, 21 April 16. I also have a Bush BCR30DAB, which I use when visiting our daughter. The Sony unit has a sleep function with 90, 60, 30 and 15 minute increments but it is a fair bit more expensive than the Audiosonic unit but it also has the CD player feature that is rarely included in DAB units these days.
